MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Presidents, Colleagues and Friends,

Welcome to Badminton Asia Virtual Annual General Meeting year 2020. I hope you and your loved ones are staying safe and well. On behalf of Badminton Asia, I wish to thank all the members and delegates for attending our Virtual Annual General Meeting.

Due to Covid19 Pandemic and the social distancing requirements, our AGM this year is held differently compared to past years and this may also be a part of history for all of us, a new norm that we need to adapt for the present time.

Today, we are gathered here after one year of newly appointed members and office administration. 2019 has been a year of change and challenging. Today, I am proud to say Badminton Asia had not slowed down despite many challenges that we had face and we are still making great progress towards our common goal in developing badminton and being the number one sports in the world.

Most importantly, I am humbled by the outstanding dedication and commitment shown by the members, the executive committees and the employees of Badminton Asia who had devoted their valuable time to help us achieved our mission.

In the year 2019, we had launched our 4 years strategies and our main mission was to develop the under-privileged member countries with tailor made programs to suit the communities. We will continue to prioritize our services to these member countries and provide the necessary support to raise the standards of badminton in Asia.

The Exco Committee board hold at least 2 formal meetings every year to resolve important issues in order to ensure that each committee is focussed on achieving the goals set for Badminton Asia. Our objective is to make sure that we maintain our focus on our goals by building our relationships in particular with our sponsors and stakeholders whom we rely heavily on. These are a few of the many diverse ideas and activities that had impacted in the year 2019.

Badminton Asia too is often being confronted with uncertainty impacting the world and our biggest challenges is to ensure that we remain active for our members despite all odds.

As a mission-driven organisation, it is with a great pride Badminton Asia had proclaimed success in the past years with remarkable growth.

We at badminton Asia are honoured to serve you and last but not least, WE MUST BE UNITED AND CONNECTED.

Thank you and we look forward to seeing you in person in year 2021.

Stay healthy and safe.

Development and reform of Macau local tournaments to promote the popularity of badminton in Macau

I have been involved in badminton for over 18 years. After years of effort, badminton has become one of the most popular sports in Macau. Various and different levels of local tournaments (Fourteen fixed local tournaments per year) have been introduced and organized for the public, government, enterprises and social associations in order to promote and enhance the popularity of badminton in Macau.

Achievement of Badminton Federation of Macau in 2019

Last year is a great year with improvement. In addition to the growth of the number of people who play badminton, Macau National Badminton Team has got good results. In Badminton Asia Championship 2019, player PUI PANG FONG beat opponents in the MS round robin stage to reach Main Draw, and Macau National Team first time won the champion in Group Four in Sudirman Cup 2019. Besides, in the BWF world rankings, Macau players made great improvement: WD world ranking 108, XD world ranking 218 and MS world ranking 249. As for organizing international event, 2019 Macau Open Badminton, Part of the HSBC BWF World Tour, has successfully completed, and it was the fourteenth year for Macau to organize Macau Open Badminton since 2006.

Badminton Federation of Macau not only organizes local badminton tournaments by itself, but also assists local government departments, institutions and companies in organizing badminton events as a co-organizer, providing technical officials service to more than 10 different organizations in 15 local events in the whole year.

Major achievements:

Badminton has been the most popular and well-participated racket sport among the people of Singapore. It is a recognised sport and co-curricular activity in all the nation's educational institutions – primary, secondary, post-secondary and tertiary. It is also immensely popular as a casual game and recreational activity among family and friends.

2019 was another good year for Singapore badminton. The local badminton scene was vibrant with National Schools' competitions, SBA-sanctioned age-group tournaments, numerous other tournaments and culminated with the SportsHub National Open Championship presented by Lianhe Zaobao. The icing on the cake was the Singapore Open in April 2019 which was recognised as the tournament with the Best VIP Experience & Hospitality in the 2019 HSBC BWF World Tour. The event attracted over 16,000 fans, players, officials and volunteers across 6 days, and saw participation from many of the world's top-ranked players. The Singapore Badminton Association also worked with BWF for the launch of AirBadminton in Singapore in November 2019, in conjunction with the Singapore Youth International tournament.

The Singapore Badminton Men's and Women's Teams both retained their bronze medals at the biennial South-East Asian Games in 2019, and Loh Kean Yew also achieved Singapore's first men's singles silver medal in the last 12 years at the Games. Both Singapore's top men's and women's singles players, Loh Kean Yew and Yeo Jia Min are on track to qualify for this year's Tokyo Olympics. Kean Yew also won the Thailand Masters Men's Singles event while Jia Min won the Hyderabad Open Women's Singles event and fought her way into the quarter-finals of the World Championship. On the Technical Officials front, we were proud that Jess Chan was upgraded as a Certificated Umpire by Badminton Asia while Leong Wai Kwan and Liang Lixin were accredited as BWF Line Judges for the four-year cycle.

Major achievements:

The year 2019 was a remarkable year for the Thai badminton with an outstanding record of many achievements in the international arena, particularly our maiden victory in the Badminton Asia Junior Championships in Suzhou, China.

In the 2019 world championships, Thailand won not only its first ever silver medal in mixed doubles from Dechapol Puavaranukroh and Sapsiree Taerattanachai, but also its first ever bronze medal in men's singles from Kantaphon Wangcharoen.

With respect to badminton competitions, the bat organized 39 bat-sanctioned tournaments and held two international events, namely, princess Sirivannavari Thailand masters (PSTM) and Toyota Thailand open.

The association received the best arena bowl & field of play award from the PSTM. At the youth level, we launched the Toyota youth super series to provide young players with more opportunities to compete.

For our organizational development, we improved the curriculums of a, b and c-coaching license and organized the coaching courses throughout all regions of the country. To be in conformity with the international standard, we replaced level 3, 2 and 1 licenses for umpires with the national certificated and accredited.

Moreover, we had an umpire exchange project with other countries to further develop our umpires and continue to improve assessment process for umpires to earn higher level certification.

We also tried to standardize certification for referees by offering only the national certificated license.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT TO THE MEMBERS OF
BADMINTON ASIA CONFEDERATION
(Registered under the Societies Act, 1966)

Report on the Audit of the Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of BADMINTON ASIA CONFEDERATION, which comprise the statements of financial position as at 31 December 2019, and the statements of profit or loss and statement of cash flows of the Confederation for the financial year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies, as set out on pages 7 to 31.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Confederation as at 31 December 2019, and of their financial performance and their cash flows for the financial year then ended in accordance with Malaysian Financial Reporting Standards, International Financial Reporting Standards and the requirements of the Societies Act, 1966 in Malaysia.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with approved standards on auditing in Malaysia and International Standards on Auditing. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Independence and Other Ethical Responsibilities

We are independent of the Confederation in accordance with the By-Laws (on Professional Ethics, Conduct and Practice) of the Malaysian Institute of Accountants ("By-Laws") and the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants ("IESBA Code"), and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the By-Laws and the IESBA Code.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT TO THE MEMBERS OF BADMINTON ASIA CONFEDERATION
(Registered under the Societies Act, 1966)

Information Other than the Financial Statements and Auditors' Report Thereon

The Management Committee of the Confederation is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Management Committee's Report, but does not include the financial statements of the Confederation and our auditors' report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements of the Confederation does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements of the Confederation, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements of the Confederation or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Management Committee for the Financial Statements

The Management Committee of the Confederation is responsible for the preparation of financial statements of the Confederation that give a true and fair view in accordance with Malaysian Financial Reporting Standards, International Financial Reporting Standards and the requirements of the Societies Act, 1966 in Malaysia. The Management Committee is also responsible for such internal control as the Management Committee determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements of the Confederation that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements of the Confederation, the Management Committee is responsible for assessing the Confederation's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Management Committee either intend to liquidate the Confederation or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements of the Confederation as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with approved standards on auditing in Malaysia and International Standards on Auditing will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT TO THE MEMBERS OF
(Registered under the Societies Act, 1966)

As part of an audit in accordance with approved standards on auditing in Malaysia and International Standards on Auditing, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also: -

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements of the Confederation, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Confederation's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Management Committee.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Management Committee's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Confederation's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the financial statements of the Confederation or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Confederation to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements of the Confederation, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements of the Confederation represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with the Management Committee regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. GENERAL INFORMATION

The principal activities of the Confederation are those of promoting, managing and developing the badminton sport in Asia in principles of specificity and universality.

The Confederation is registered in Malaysia under the Societies Act, 1966.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

2.1 Basis of preparation

The financial statements of the Confederation have been prepared in accordance with the Malaysian Financial Reporting Standards (“MFRSs”), International Financial Reporting Standards and the requirements of the Societies Act, 1966 in Malaysia.

The financial statements of the Confederation have been prepared under the historical cost basis, other than as disclosed in the significant accounting policies in Note 2.3 to the financial statements.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with MFRSs requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of the revenue and expenses during the reported period. It also requires Management Committee to exercise their judgement in the process of applying the Confederation’s accounting policies. Although these estimates and judgement are based on the Management Committee’s best knowledge of current events and actions, actual results may differ.

The areas involving a higher degree of judgement or complexity, or areas where assumptions and estimates are significant to the financial statements are disclosed in Note 2.4 to the financial statements.

BADMINTON ASIA CONFEDERATION
(Registered under the Societies Act, 1966)

- from the annual period beginning on 1 January 2020 for those accounting standards, amendments or interpretations that are effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2020.

The Confederation does not plan to apply MFRS 17, Insurance Contracts that is effective for annual period beginning on 1 January 2021 as it is not applicable to the Confederation.

BADMINTON ASIA CONFEDERATION
(Registered under the Societies Act, 1966)

2.3 Significant Accounting Policies

The following accounting policies have been used consistently in dealing with items which are considered material in relation to the financial statements: -

(a) Plant and Equipment and Depreciation

All plant and equipment are initially stated at cost. After recognition as an asset, items of plant and equipment are carried at cost less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses. The policy for the recognition and measurement of impairment losses is in accordance with Note 2.3(f) to the financial statements.

Cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the asset. When significant parts of an item of plant and equipment have different useful lives, they are accounted for as separate items of plant and equipment.

The cost of replacing part of an item of plant and equipment is included in the asset's carrying amount or recognised as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that the future economic benefits associated with the part will flow to the Confederation and its cost can be measured reliably. The carrying amount of the replaced part is derecognised. All other repairs and maintenance are charged to the profit or loss as incurred.

Depreciation is provided on a straight-line method so as to write off the depreciable amount of the following assets over their estimated useful lives, as follows:

	Rate
Computer and software	30%
Furniture and fittings	10%
Office equipment	10%
Renovation	10%

Depreciation of an asset begins when it is ready for its intended use.

The residual values, useful lives and depreciation are reviewed, and adjusted as appropriate, at the end of each reporting period. The effects of any revisions of the residual value and useful lives are included in the profit or loss for the financial year in which the changes arise.

An item of plant and equipment is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on derecognition of the asset is included in the profit or loss in the financial year the asset is derecognised.

(b) Financial Instruments

Recognition and initial measurement

Financial instruments are recognised in the statements of financial position when, and only when, the Confederation becomes a party to the contract provisions of the financial instrument.

A financial instrument is recognised initially, at its fair value, plus, in the case of a financial instrument not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of the financial instrument.

An embedded derivative is recognised separately from the host contract and accounted for as a derivative if, and only if, it is not closely related to the economic characteristics and risks of the host contract and the host contract is not categorised at fair value through profit or loss. The host contract, in the event an embedded derivative is recognised separately, is accounted for in accordance with policy applicable to the nature of the host contract.

Financial instrument categories and subsequent measurement

Financial assets

The categories of financial assets are determined on initial recognition and are not reclassified subsequent to their initial recognition unless the Company changes its business model for managing financial assets in which case all affected financial assets are reclassified on the first day of the first reporting period following the change of the business model.

(i) Amortised cost

Amortised cost category comprises financial assets that are held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows and its contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding. The financial assets are not designated as fair value through profit or loss. Subsequent to initial recognition, these financial assets are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. The amortised cost is reduced by impairment losses. Interest income, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognised in profit or loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is recognised in profit or loss.

Interest income is recognised by applying effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount except for credit impaired financial assets as disclosed in Note 2.3(f) to the financial statements, where the effective interest rate is applied to the amortised cost.

BADMINTON ASIA CONFEDERATION
(Registered under the Societies Act, 1966)

(b) Financial Instruments (Continued)

(ii) Fair value through other comprehensive income

(a) Debt investments

Fair value through other comprehensive income category comprises debt investment where it is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling the debt investment, and its contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding. The debt investment is not designated as at fair value through profit or loss. Interest income calculated using the effective interest method, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognised in profit or loss. Other net gains and losses are recognised in other comprehensive income. On derecognition, gains and losses accumulated in other comprehensive income are reclassified to profit or loss.

Interest income is recognised by applying effective interest rate to the gross carrying amount except for credit impaired financial assets, where the effective interest rate is applied to the amortised cost.

(b) Equity investments

This category comprises investment in equity that is not held for trading, and the Confederation irrevocably elect to present subsequent changes in the investment's fair value in other comprehensive income. This election is made on an investment-by-investment basis. Dividends are recognised as income in profit or loss unless the dividend clearly represents a recovery of part of the cost of investment. Other net gains and losses are recognised in other comprehensive income. On derecognition, gains and losses accumulated in other comprehensive income are not reclassified to profit or loss.

(iii) Fair value through profit or loss

All financial assets not measured at amortised cost or fair value through other comprehensive income as described above are measured at fair value through profit or loss. This includes derivative financial assets (except for a derivative that is a designated and effective hedging instrument). On initial recognition, the Confederation may irrevocably designate a financial asset that otherwise meets the requirements to be measured at amortised cost or at fair value through other comprehensive income as at fair value through profit or loss if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch that would otherwise arise.

Financial assets categorised as fair value through profit or loss are subsequently measured at their fair value. Net gains or losses, including any interest or dividend income, are recognised in the profit or loss.

All financial assets, except for those measured at fair value through profit or loss and equity investments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income, are subject to impairment assessment.

Financial liabilities

The categories of financial liabilities at initial recognition are as follows:-

(i) Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss

Fair value through profit or loss category comprises financial liabilities that are derivatives (except for a derivative that is a financial guarantee contract or a designated and effective hedging instrument), contingent consideration in a business combination and financial liabilities that are specifically designated into this category upon initial recognition.

On initial recognition, the Confederation may irrevocably designate a financial liability that otherwise meets the requirements to be measured at amortised cost as at fair value through profit or loss:-

- (a) if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch that would otherwise arise;
- (b) a group of financial liabilities or assets and financial liabilities is managed and its performance is evaluated on a fair value basis, in accordance with a documented risk management or investment strategy, and information about the group is provided internally on that basis to the Confederation's key management personnel; or
- (c) if a contract contains one or more embedded derivatives and the host is not a financial asset in the scope of MFRS 9, where the embedded derivative significantly modifies the cash flows and separation is not prohibited.

Financial liabilities categorised as fair value through profit or loss are subsequently measured at their fair value with gains or losses, including any interest expense are recognised in the profit or loss.

For financial liabilities where it is designated as fair value through profit or loss upon initial recognition, the Confederation recognise the amount of change in fair value of the financial liability that is attributable to change in credit risk in the other comprehensive income and remaining amount of the change in fair value in the profit or loss, unless the treatment of the effects of changes in the liability's credit risk would create or enlarge an accounting mismatch.

(ii) Amortised cost

Other financial liabilities not categorised as fair value through profit or loss are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Interest expense and foreign exchange gains and losses are recognised in the profit or loss. Any gains or losses on derecognition are also recognised in the profit or loss.

Financial guarantee contracts

A financial guarantee contract is a contract that requires the issuer to make specified payments to reimburse the holder for a loss it incurs because a specified debtor fails to make payment when due in accordance with the original or modified terms of a debt instrument.

Financial guarantees issued are initially measured at fair value. Subsequently measured at higher of:-

- the amount of the loss allowance; and
- the amount initially recognised less, when appropriate, the cumulative amount of income recognised in accordance to the principles of MFRS 15, Revenue from Contracts with Customers.

Liabilities arising from financial guarantees are presented together with other provisions.

Regular way purchase or sale of financial assets

Settlement date accounting refers to:-

- (i) the recognition of an asset to be received and the liability to pay for it on the trade date, and
- (ii) derecognition of an asset that is sold, recognition of any gain or loss on disposal and the recognition of a receivable from the buyer for payment on the trade date.

Any change in the fair value of the asset to be received during the period between the trade date and the settlement date is accounted in the same way as it accounts for the acquired asset.

Generally, the Confederation applies settlement date accounting unless otherwise stated for the specific class of asset.

Derecognition

A financial asset or part of it is derecognised when, and only when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial asset expire or transferred, or control of the asset is not retained or substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred to another party. On derecognition of a financial asset, the difference between the carrying amount of the financial asset and the sum of consideration received (including any new asset obtained less any new liability assumed) is recognised in profit or loss.

A financial liability or a part of it is derecognised when, and only when, the obligation specified in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expires. A financial liability is also derecognised when its terms are modified and the cash flows of the modified liability are substantially different, in which case, a new financial liability based on modified terms is recognised at fair value. On derecognition of a financial liability, the difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability extinguished or transferred to another party and the consideration paid, including any non-cash assets transferred or liabilities assumed, is recognised in profit or loss.

Offsetting

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount presented in the statements of financial position when, and only when, the Confederation currently has a legally enforceable right to set off the amounts and it intends either to settle them on a net basis or to realise the asset and liability simultaneously.

(c) Provision for Liabilities

Provision for liabilities are recognised when the Confederation has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of economic resources will be required to settle the obligation and the amount of the obligation can be estimated reliably.

Provisions are reviewed at the end of each reporting period and adjusted to reflect the current best estimate. If it is no longer probable that an outflow of economic resources will be required to settle the obligation, the provision is reversed. If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, where appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as a finance cost.

(d) Foreign Currency Translation

(i) Foreign Currency

The functional currency of the Confederation is the currency of the primary economic environment in which the Confederation operates. Ringgit Malaysia (“RM”) is the functional currency.

The financial statements of the Confederation are presented in US Dollar which is the presentation currency.

(ii) Transactions in Foreign Currencies

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated into functional currency at rates of exchange ruling at the time of transactions and where settlement had not taken place by 31 December 2019 at the approximate rates ruling as at that date. All gains and losses on exchange are included in the income and expenditure statement.

(iii) Translation of Foreign Currency Financial Statements

Foreign assets and liabilities are translated into US Dollar at exchange rates ruling at the date of statement of financial position. Income and expenditure statement items are translated at the average rate of exchange for the financial year. The translation differences arising therefrom are recorded as movements in translation reserve.

The principal exchange rates (dominated in units of US Dollar per unit of foreign currency) used in translating foreign currency are as follows: -

	RM	RM
Ringgit Malaysia (Statement of Financial Position)	4.0925	4.1360

(e) Cash and Cash Equivalents

For the purpose of the statements of cash flows, cash and cash equivalents comprise of cash in hand, bank balances, demand deposits and other short term, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value. Cash and cash equivalents are stated at net of bank overdrafts and deposits pledged to the financial institution.

(f) Impairment

The Confederation assesses at the end of each reporting period whether there is any objective evidence that a financial asset is impaired.

(i) Impairment of Financial Assets

Other receivables

To determine whether there is objective evidence that an impairment loss on financial assets have been occurred, the Confederation considers factors such as the probability of insolvency or significant delay in payments. For certain categories of financial assets, such as other receivables, assets that are assessed not to be impaired individually are subsequently assessed for impairment on a collective basis based on similar characteristics. Objective evidence of impairment for a portfolio of receivables could include the Confederation's past experience of collecting payments, an increased in the number of delayed payments in the portfolio past the average credit period and the observable changes in national or local economic conditions that correlate with default on receivables.

If any such evidence exists, the amount of impairment loss is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows discounted at the financial asset's original effective interest rate. The impairment loss is recognised in profit or loss.

(f) Impairment (Continued)

The carrying amount of the financial asset is reduced by the impairment loss directly for all financial assets with the exception of other receivables, where the carrying amount is reduced through the use of an allowance account. When the other receivable becomes uncollectible, it is written off against the allowance account.

If in a subsequent period, the amount of the impairment loss decreases and the decrease can be related objectively to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognised, the previously recognised impairment loss is reversed to the extent that the carrying amount of the asset does not exceed its amortised cost at the reversal date. The amount of reversal is recognised in profit or loss.

Unquoted equity securities carried at cost

If there is objective evidence (such as significant adverse changes in the business environment where the issuer operates, probability of insolvency or significant financial difficulties of the issuer) that an impairment loss on financial assets carried at cost had been incurred, the amount of the loss is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows discounted at the current market rate of return for a similar financial asset. Such impairment losses are not reversed in subsequent periods.

(ii) Impairment of Non-financial Assets

The Confederation assesses at the end of each reporting period whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any such indication exists, or when an annual impairment assessment for an asset is required, the Confederation makes an estimate of the asset's recoverable amount.

An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell and its value in use. For the purpose of assessing impairment, assets are grouped at the lowest levels for which there are separately identifiable cash flows (cash-generating units ("CGU")).

In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows expected to be generated by the asset are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. Where the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is written down to its recoverable amount. Impairment losses recognised in respect of a CGU or groups of CGUs are allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to those units or groups of units and then, to reduce the carrying amount of the other assets in the unit or groups of units on a pro-rata basis.

Impairment losses are recognised in profit or loss except for assets that are previously revalued where the revaluation was taken to other comprehensive income. In this case, the impairment is also recognised in other comprehensive income up to the amount of any previous revaluation.

An assessment is made at the end of each reporting period as to whether there is any indication that previously recognised impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased. A previously recognised impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognised. If that is the case, the carrying amount of the asset is increased to its recoverable amount. That increase cannot exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation, had no impairment loss been recognised previously. Such reversal is recognised in profit or loss unless the asset is measured at revalued amount, in which case the reversal is treated as a revaluation increase. Impairment loss on goodwill is not reversed in a subsequent period.

(g) Government grant

Government grants that do not impose specified future performance conditions are measured at the fair value of the assets received or receivable and recognised in income when the grant proceeds are receivable.

Government grants that impose specified future performance conditions are recognised at their fair value in income only when the performance conditions are met.

Government grants received before the revenue recognition criteria are satisfied are recognised as a liability.

(h) Income recognition

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable, net of any discounts, rebates, returns and taxes collected on behalf of government. Revenue is recognised to the extent that it is probable that economic benefits associated with the transactions will flow to the Confederation.

(i) Employee Benefits

(i) Short Term Employee Benefits

Wages, salaries, social security contribution, bonuses and non-monetary benefits are accrued in the period in which the associated services are rendered by the employees. Short term accumulating compensated absences such as paid annual leave is recognised when services rendered by the employees that increase their entitlement to future compensated absences. Short term non-accumulating compensated absences such as sick leave is recognised when the absences occur.

(ii) Post-employment Benefits

The Confederation contributes to the Employees' Provident Fund, the national defined contribution plan. The contributions are charged to the profit or loss in the period to which the related service is performed. Once the contributions have been paid, the Confederation has no further payment obligations.

(j) Income tax

The tax expense in the profit or loss represents the aggregate amount of current tax and deferred tax. Current tax and deferred tax are recognised in profit or loss except to the extent that they relate to a business combination or items recognised directly in equity or other comprehensive income.

Current tax expense is the expected tax payable or receivable in respect of the taxable profit or loss for the financial year and is measured using the tax rates that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period, and any adjustment to tax payable in respect of previous years.

Deferred tax is recognised using the liability method, providing for temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the statement of financial position and their tax bases. Deferred tax is not recognised for the following temporary differences: the initial recognition of goodwill, the initial recognition of assets or liabilities in a transaction that is not a business combination and that affects neither accounting nor taxable profit or loss. Deferred tax is measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply to the temporary differences when they reverse, based on the laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the end of the reporting period.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax liabilities and assets, and they relate to income taxes levied by the same tax authority on the same taxable entity, or on different tax entities, but they intend to settle current tax liabilities and assets on a net basis or their tax assets and liabilities will be realised simultaneously.

A deferred tax asset is recognised to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the temporary difference can be utilised. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at the end of each reporting period and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realised.

A tax incentive that is not a tax base of an asset is recognised as a reduction of tax expense in profit or loss as and when it is granted and claimed. Any unutilised portion of the tax incentive is recognised as a deferred tax asset to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which the unutilised tax incentive can be utilised.

2.4 Significant Accounting Estimates and Judgements

The preparation of the Confederation's financial statements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities, and the disclosure of contingent liabilities at the end of the reporting period. However, uncertainty about these assumptions and estimates could result in outcomes that could require a material adjustment to the carrying amount of the asset or liability affected in the future.

(a) Judgements Made in Applying Accounting Policies

There are no critical judgements made by the Management Committee in the application of accounting policies of the Confederation that has a significant effect on the financial statements.

(b) Key Sources of Estimation Uncertainty

The key assumption concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the end of the reporting period that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are as stated below: -

(i) Useful Lives of Plant and Equipment

The Confederation estimates the useful lives of plant and equipment based on the period over which the assets are expected to be available for use. The estimated useful lives of plant and equipment are reviewed periodically and are updated if expectations differ from previous estimates due to physical wear and tear, technical or commercial obsolescence and legal or other limits on the use of the relevant assets.

In addition, the estimation of the useful lives of plant and equipment are based on internal technical evaluation and experience with similar assets. It is possible, however, that future results of operations could be materially affected by changes in the estimates brought about by changes in factors mentioned above. The amounts and timing of recorded expenses for any period would be affected by changes in these factors and circumstances. A reduction in the estimated useful lives of the plant and equipment would increase the recorded expenses and decrease the non-current assets.

(b) Key Sources Estimation Uncertainty (Continued)

(ii) Impairment of Plant and Equipment

The Confederation assesses impairment of assets whenever the events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable i.e. the carrying amount of the asset is more than the recoverable amount.

Recoverable amount is measured at the higher of the fair value less cost to sell for that asset and its value-in-use. The value-in-use is the net present value of the projected future cash flow derived from that asset discounted at an appropriate discount rate. Projected future cash flows are based on the Confederation's estimates calculated based on historical, sector and industry trends, general market and economic conditions, changes in technology and other available information.

As at end of reporting period, the Management Committee of the Confederation are of the opinion that there is no impact resulting from the impairment review by the management.

(iii) Impairment of Loans and Receivables

The Confederation assesses at the end of each reporting period whether there is any objective evidence that a financial asset is impaired. To determine whether there is objective evidence of impairment, the Confederation considers factors such as the probability of insolvency or significant financial difficulties of the debtor and default or significant delay in payments.

Where there is objective evidence of impairment, the amount and timing of future cash flows are estimated based on historical loss experience for assets with similar credit risk characteristics. The carrying amount of the Confederation's loans and receivables at the end of the reporting period is disclosed in Note 4 to the financial statements.

(iv) Income Taxes

Significant judgement is required in determining the capital allowances and deductibility of certain expenses during the estimation of the provision for income taxes. There are many transactions and calculations for which the ultimate tax determination is uncertain during the ordinary course of business. Where the final tax outcome of these matters is different from the amounts that were initially recorded, such differences will impact the income tax and deferred income tax provisions in the period in which such determination is made.

11. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

The Confederation's financial risk management policy seeks to ensure that adequate financial resources are available for the development of the Confederation's whilst managing its financial risk including liquidity and cash flow risk. The Confederation operates within guidelines that are approved by the Boards and the Confederation's policy is not to engage in speculative transactions.

The main areas of financial risks faced by the Confederation and the policy in respect of the major areas of treasury activity are set out as follows: -

(a) Liquidity and cash flow risk

The Confederation maintains a certain level of cash and cash convertible investments to meet its working capital requirements.

(b) Foreign exchange risk

The Confederation is exposed to foreign current risk as a result of its normal operation activities when the currency domination differs from its functional currency.

The Confederation maintains a natural hedge, wherever possible, by depositing foreign currency proceeds from receipt into foreign currency bank account which will preliminary be used for payments in the same domination. Foreign exchange exposures in transactional currencies other than functional currency of the operating entities are kept to an acceptable level.

BADMINTON ASIA CONFEDERATION
(Registered under the Societies Act, 1966)

11. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS (CONTINUED)

(c) Credit risk

Cash deposits and other receivables may give rise to credit risk which requires the loss to be recognised if a counterparty defaults on its obligations. The Confederation's exposure to credit risk arises primarily from other receivables. For other financial assets (including cash and bank balances), the Confederation minimises credit risk by dealing exclusively with high credit rating counterparties.

The credit risk with respect to other receivables are managed through the application of credit approvals, credit limits and monitoring procedures. Credit is extended to the customers based upon careful evaluation of the customer's financial condition and credit history.

The Confederation's normal credit term granted to members ranges from 30 to 60 days. Any other credit terms are assessed and approved on a case-by-case basis depending on the length of trading relationship, the volume of trade and other management considerations.

(d) Fair values

The carrying amounts of cash and cash equivalents and other receivables and other payables approximate fair value due to the relatively short to USD nature of these financial instruments.

The financial statements of the Confederation for the financial year ended 31 December 2019 were authorized for issue in accordance with a resolution of the Management Committee on
